Young film professionals who want to join the European Film Academy must be European filmmakers under 36 years of age.

European, in the sense of the European Film Academy, means geographical Europe, both EU and non-EU, and shall include Israeli and Palestinian.

*Applicants must have main credits for at least one feature-length film (fiction, animation or documentary) and the film must have had an official screening in a regular, international section of a competitive FIAPF-accredited European film festival or been nominated by a national film academy.

All applications have to be supported by one EFA Member.

The annual membership fee of EUR 100 for young members includes voting rights for the European Film Awards and for the EFA Board, access to the EFA VOD Platform, and invitations to the European Film Awards weekend. In the year after young members turn 36, their membership will automatically renew for the regular EUR 225 fee.
